

Errata

In the original version of the Inheritance lecture notes §12, §25–§26, we incorrectly specified that `@override` is an attribute. This is incorrect, it is an annotation. Java has a dozen or so annotations, of which `@override` is the only one we will discuss in this course.

The lectures notes for Inheritance have been corrected and you should note that in these sections, we correctly refer to `@override` as an annotation. However, the video lectures for §12, §25–§26 have not been corrected, so please be aware as you are watching the video lectures Week 2 Lecture 15, Week 2 Lecture 28, and Week 2 Lecture 29 that we still incorrectly refer to `@override` as an attribute.
